UNION CITY MAN SENTENCED TO 40 MONTHS IN FEDERAL PRISON FOR CHILD PORNOGRAPHY

Terry L. Harris, United States Attorney for the Western District of Tennessee, announced today the sentencing of a Union City man, DANNY L. CAMPBELL, for possession and receipt of child pornography. CAMPBELL, 52, was convicted on December 6, 2001, by a Jackson federal jury for possessing and receiving child pornography which had been downloaded from the internet on his WebTV.

Chief U.S. District Judge James D. Todd ordered CAMPBELL to serve a 40 month term in federal prison and placed the following special restrictions on CAMPBELL: (1) participate in a sex offender treatment program; (2) may not possess any pornography; (3) may not have direct or indirect contact with children under 18; (4) may not loiter or maintain a residence near school yards, playgrounds, swimming pools, arcades, or other places frequented by children; (5) must register with local law enforcement; (6) must abide by a curfew; (7) may not use sexually oriented telephone services; and (8) may not have internet access. Additionally, CAMPBELL was required to forfeit all equipment used to receive and print the images of the children.

Harris had special commendations for FBI Special Agents Greg Franklin, Lee Stewart and Daryl Barry, for Perry Barfield of the Union City Police Department, and for Assistant U.S. Attorney Leigh Grinalds who prosecuted the case for the government.
